Court Proceedings.

In the Court of Common Pleas the case of J. R. Callahan against the Bank of Anderson, which was taken up on the first day of the second week of the special term, was given to the jury Wednesday. This action was brought by Mr. Callahan to recover damages in the sum of $3,000 for the dishonor of his check. The case has been tried once before, and resulted in a mistrial. The jury gave the plaintiff a verdict for $1,500. An appeal to the supreme court will be taken by the defendant's attorneys. The plaintiff was represented by Jonathan & Watkins and Tribble & Prince, the latter by Col. J. N. Brown, J. M. Paget and Quattlebaum & Cochran.

The case of R. R. Stevenson and Mrs. Florence Stevenson against the Western Union Telegraph company was not tried. The action was for damages brought against the company under the mental anguish act of the legislature, which makes telegraph companies liable in damages for negligence in delivering messages. The plaintiff recovered a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs, giving them $500. H. J. Jagnall and Bonham & Watkins represented the plaintiffs, and Tribble & Prince the defendants.

The last case to be tried was that of J. A. Hall against the C. & W. C. railroad. Mr. Hall sued the railroad to recover damages for the burning of some woods on his plantation south of the city. He asked for $225 in damages. The jury gave him $100. B. F. Martin represented the plaintiff, and Bonham & Watkins and G. C. Sullivan the railroad.

At the conclusion of the business of the court on Saturday afternoon and before the adjournment Gen. Bonham, on behalf of the association thanked Judge Featherstone for the able and satisfactory manner in which he had presided as special judge. His ability, fairness and conscientiousness in the discharge of his duty had made a deep impression on the members of the bar, the speaker said. Hon. Geo. E. Prince heartily endorsed the sentiments expressed by Gen. Bonham in a short speech. Mr. Featherstone replied feelingly to the remarks. It was a great pleasure, he said, to come back to his old home to hold court, and he assured the fact that his old friends had done him this honor and appreciated his efforts to be fair and conscientious in discharging his duties with ease, ability and conscientiousness.

At Hyman's After.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Mr. Samuel J. Barton and Miss Eva Kay, which took place last Wednesday evening, 19th inst., at the home of the bride, on Murray Avenue.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah J. Kay of this city. She is a young woman of many personal charms and she has a host of admiring friends in the city. The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barton, of Townville, S. C., and a young man of many noble qualities of character. He is one of the life insurance men of the city.

The parlor had been tastefully decorated with holly and vases of white chrysanthemums and Maiden hair fern. Miss Mattie Eskow presided at the organ, and when the soft strains of the wedding march began all were hushed in expectancy, and in came the bride, holding in her hand white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern, with white ribbon falling to the floor, dressed in a beautiful white organdy, with trimmings of white applique and ribbon, leaning on the arm of the groom. It was a beautiful picture as they stood in front of a background of ivy facing Rev. W. B. Hawkins, who, in a few solemn and impressive words, pronounced the ceremony which forever linked the destiny of those two lives together through all the troubles and happiness that shall come before them.

At the conclusion of the ceremony we were all invited into the beautiful decorated dining-room, where we were treated to a sumptuous repast.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and expensive presents. This couple have many friends throughout the county, with whom we join in wishing them success through their journey in life. A Guest.

Deaths.

Sidney P. Tate died at his home in Varennes Township last Friday morning at an illness of several weeks with cancer of the bowels. On Saturday morning the remains were interred in the Flat Rock Churchyard, Rev. W. W. Leathers conducting the funeral service. Mr. Tate was the eldest son of the late (Griff) Tate, was 52 years of age, and was born and reared and spent his life in the section where he died. For a number of years he served as magistrate for Varennes Township, and last summer was elected clerk of the board of county commissioners, but was forced to resign a few weeks ago on account of his affliction. Mr. Tate was a worthy, upright citizen, and had long served as a deacon of the Flat Rock Church, of which he had been a devoted member since his boyhood. His wife preceded him to the grave several years ago, and seven children are left to cherish his memory. In this bereavement they have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends.

Mrs. J. Martin Hanks died at her home near Honea Path on Wednesday, 19th inst., after a brief illness. She had been in feeble health for the past year, but during the past month she had apparently greatly improved, and the announcement of her death was therefore a great shock to many of her friends. Mrs. Hanks was a daughter of the late Rev. Paris Hawkins of this County, and about 60 years of age. She was a most estimable woman and greatly beloved by a wide circle of friends and relatives, who will long cherish the memory of her. She was a member of Barker's Creek Baptist Church, where her remains were interred last Thursday afternoon. Rev. M. McGee conducting the funeral services. She leaves a sorrowing bereaved husband, three sons and four daughters.

Dr. Jacobs Thanks His Friends.

Ten days ago the editor of The Intelligencer sent Rev. W. P. Jacobs, D. D., President of the Thornwell Orphanage, a check for $78.40, contributed by the citizens of this section for the purpose of rebuilding the Orphanage Chapel, which was recently destroyed by fire. In reply thereto we have received the following letter:

Clinton, S. C., Dec. 14, 1901. My Dear Mr. Langston: I have just received your check for $78.40 for the rebuilding of our Chapel, and along with it the list of names of many friends whose gifts in the aggregate have made this sum. The whole is a work of love that touches my heart with the sense of the wonderful kindness that the people of our State, and not least of the generous and noble city of Anderson, are showing to these orphans. When our Seminary building, now destroyed, was in process of construction it required ninety weeks of work to raise the funds to do it, but the same amount has been contributed in less than three weeks, by those who have, without any of my urging, taken it upon themselves to do this thing. No wonder my heart goes out in grateful thanks to our heavenly Father for having raised up such friends. The prospect now is that the eight thousand dollars for the Chapel building will be in hand before Christmas.

I beg you to accept my warmest thanks for your own faithful efforts for the kindness that prompted your labors, for the success that crowned them. Your city is foremost in every good work, and very ready with a helping hand to do whatever seems to be needed. I feel sure you feel proud of your city, and, indeed, the whole State feels the same way. Certainly we of the Thornwell Orphanage have occasion to say, "God bless you."

Please give our thanks to every donor on the list of our benefactors. Faithfully yours, W. P. Jacobs.

Farmers' Meeting.

The Farmers' Educational and Co-operative union, the new organization of farmers, held a meeting in the Court House Wednesday morning. Matters of interest to the farmers were discussed, particularly the question of holding cotton until a better price in the market justified them in selling. A resolution was unanimously passed to the effect that no cotton should be sold for less than 10 cents. It was decided to hold cotton until a better price in the market justified them in selling. Searched Rooms of Cadets.

Greenville, S. C., December 14.—After expelling one of the cadets for stealing, it was learned, from private correspondence received in the city today, that the faculty of the Clemson college literally held up the entire corps several days ago, and, with the assistance of military discipline, searched the rooms of every cadet in the barracks in order to find out if they had stolen articles, and fix the responsibility. The search was fruitless. The investigation was carried out by the six cadet captains, assisted by their lieutenants, each officer searching his respective barracks. The name of the cadet who was expelled is not known here. The students submitted to the search without protest so far as could be learned. It is certain there was no physical resistance.

The greatest rabbit shipping point in North Carolina and perhaps in the United States, is Siler City, in Chatham County, about 35 miles from Raleigh. The shipments range from 5,000 to 10,000 a day. All through that section there are traps or gums made of hollow logs or boxes bated with greens, and in these rabbits are caught in vast numbers. There is a great business in the skins and also in the meat, the rabbit being regarded as a staple article of food.

Startling Evidence.

Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J.
